

Press Release

European Venture Summit ranks Lixto as one of the ten most innovative IT companies in Europe

Vienna, 11 January 2010 - Lixto Software (www.lixto.com), the Web Intelligence company, today announced that it was ranked by the European Venture Summit (EVS) in December 2009 as one of the top ten most innovative IT companies in Europe. Sponsored by North Rhine-Westphalia and the City of Düsseldorf, the European Venture Summit brings international investors and business partners together to review, score and rank high tech businesses in Europe for investment strength and global potential. The event, hosted by Europe Limited, is one of the largest venture capital events in Europe. EVS aims to facilitate further growth, knowledge sharing and business partnerships in the high tech industry.

120 award-winning high tech companies converged on the Düsseldorf fairground to showcase the best European technologies and businesses. The summit recognised and awarded the top ten IT and communications enterprises, as well as the top five cleantech and life science entrepreneurs in Europe.

"The European Venture Summit is an ideal platform for our company to showcase its Web Intelligence solutions to a broad audience of investors, software and high tech experts. Furthermore, EVS provides many opportunities to gain additional business partners, which can help support our expansion goals in the year ahead," said Christian Koestler, Managing Director of Lixto Software.

About Lixto Software

Lixto Software empowers better decisions by searching & aggregating information in real-time and delivering end-to-end connectivity solutions. The company's solutions and services are used in metasearch, online market intelligence and web process integration, thus allowing companies and end users to achieve better and more structured results for their queries. Lixto also helps companies by automating their web-based business processes. Facts and figures about markets, suppliers, customers and competitors can be found more quickly, more accurately and are less expensive to access. Lixto's customers are international companies in the automotive, travel, e-commerce and IT industries such as ZF Friedrichshafen, Fujitsu Technology Solutions, Voss Automotive, shopping.com, Hama, Iberostar, hotel.de, energy provider Verbund and SAP. For further information please visit: www.lixto.com

For further information please contact:

James Cooper or Penny Flood

Ascendant Communications

Email: jcooper@ascendcomms.net or pflood@ascendcomms.net

-end-